

Report Comments

Both normative means scores and frequency distributions are presented for each of the items included in the SEEQ.

Means Reports:

Instructor Mean. This is the mean rating computed from the distribution of responses for the instructor in the course section.

Section Mean. For sections with more than one instructor, this gives the mean of the instructor means for this section. This entry provides additional information only for sections with more than one instructor, and then only for questions at the instructor level.

Course Mean. This is the mean of the instructor means for all sections of a course. If there is only one section of the course, the course mean equals the section mean.

Organization Mean. This is the mean of the instructor means for a given department/reporting org.

Level Mean. This is the mean of the instructor means for courses at a given level, i.e., 100, 200, 300, 400, and 500 or above.

UMBC Mean. This is the mean of the instructor means for all UMBC course sections evaluated.

Question Block Overall Mean. This is the mean of all questions in the specific block, e.g. "Learning"

Frequency Distribution Reports:

Responses to each item are reported on a five-point scale, with a response of "1" being a low (negative) rating, and a response of "5" being a high (positive) rating. "NA" gives the number of students who reported that the question was not applicable. The number of students not responding to an item is calculated by subtracting the frequency of responses (including NA) for that item from the total number of students responding to the survey (this number is found at the top of this sheet).

Student Responses (continued)

Courses Name: POLI 487 01 International Poli Economy

Instructors Name: Guan Wang

1. What was the best part of the course and why?

- ◊ The best part of this course for me was the student-led presentations on a wide range of topics. They gave everyone a chance to explore and share readings that introduced different viewpoints, often challenging our initial perspectives. Over time, this process became something I genuinely enjoyed, as researching and presenting to the class turned into a favorite activity.

2. What changes would you recommend in the course and why?

- ◊ The only recommendation I would make for the course is to increase engagement with the readings beyond the brief discussion at the beginning of class. This semester, that issue was addressed by incorporating occasional pop quizzes into the participation component, which I think is a fair approach. I would suggest making this an official part of the syllabus for future semesters.

3. What classroom approaches or actions make this instructor an effective teacher?

- ◊ The classroom was intentionally chosen to be small, with the instructor positioned at eye level rather than at a podium. This setup made discussions feel more focused and engaging. It also helped maintain attention during pop quizzes and presentations, as the instructor's proximity encouraged everyone to stay attentive and actively involved.

4. Were there any classroom approaches or actions that hinder this instructor from being an effective teacher? If so, what?

- ◊ I would note that when the instructor opens the floor for questions, comments, or thoughts on a topic, there is often a noticeable delay before students respond, even after being in the course for several months. This tends to rely on a few students to initiate discussion. Ideally, the environment would feel more relaxed and comfortable, encouraging everyone to share their thoughts more naturally on the presentations and topics being discussed.

5. If this course had an online component, please provide feedback to the instructor about what you feel was effective as well as suggestions for future improvements.

- ◊ N/A

6. Other Comments.

- ◊ Really enjoyed this course the most if I had to argue because of the chance to take a relaxed time discussing but also learning and taking notes during the class and having a chance to ask questions and present ourselves and write a final paper made it a comfortable yet a class that made you reflect on the economy and state of the world!

Instructors Name: Guan Wang

1. What was the best part of the course and why?

- ◊ Professor Guan made this class very lowkey, and I appreciate that we barely had assignments beyond finishing readings before class.

2. What changes would you recommend in the course and why?

- ◊ I would recommend making a few of the readings just a bit shorter, but other than that, many of the required readings were very mentally stimulating and interesting.

3. What classroom approaches or actions make this instructor an effective teacher?

- ◊ easy communication

4. Were there any classroom approaches or actions that hinder this instructor from being an effective teacher? If so, what?

- ◊ N/A
